Book Talk

On Tuesday we had a return visit from Jane Considine, an educational consultant who is helping us to build on our successful Book Talk in school.

She worked with several classes in order for all our teachers to participate in workshops to further engage the children in reading and enjoying books and develop their thinking. The day was memorable and exciting for all involved.

On her Twitter feed Jane wrote;

"It was great to Book Talk with you. Great kids and the reading climate just oozing with excitement".

BOOK TALK

Learning in Action

Sometime ago we offered parents the opportunity to see learning in action by visiting classes during the school day.

If you would like to take up this offer, please contact your Parents Forum Class Representative. We usually avoid putting the parents/carers in classes with their own children.

Come and share the pride we have in the children's learning.

Can parents/carers please ensure that school cardigans and jumpers are clearly named. With the warmer weather coming it would help us to return them to the appropriate person when they are left on the field or playground. If you would like, Mrs Perry in Year 5 would be happy to write names in items with a permanent marker – any day after school.

Can we also remind you again that PE kits need to be in school every day.

Children are still coming to school without water bottles. We cannot emphasise enough how important it is for them to stay hydrated – especially in the warmer weather.
We have had a number of children coming to the medical room with headaches or feeling dizzy and when questioned it turns out they haven't had anything to drink since breakfast. Please, please ensure that they have plenty to drink during the day – every day.

I want to ride my bicycle….

It's brilliant to see so many children riding to school on bikes. However, it's not so good to see too many of them do not wear helmets. With such a busy road to contend with, please make sure your child wears the appropriate headgear.

It needs to conform to current regulations, is the correct size and is securely fastened.

Coastaltube

The Coastal Tube project is just one of the many ways the Alliance work together and the idea of the site is for you as parents, carers and pupils to be able to use educational videos, created by pupils across the Alliance schools (including Briary), to support mathematical learning at home and in school.

Please let us know if you are able to help us on the day – there are lots of things people can do to get involved.

Look out in future Bulletins for notices of things we need you to donate.
